ENERGY STAR® Qualified Gas Water Heaters Available January 1, 2009

The average home spends about $1,900 annually on energy bills. Heating and cooling accounts for as much as half of a home's energy use. The EPA provides important recommendations for energy-efficient equipment, including proper sizing, quality installation and maintenance, and other home improvement considerations to help you get the most out of the heating and cooling products you purchase, save energy, and save as much as 20% annually on your total energy costs.

Water heaters can help.

Whether you're replacing your current water heater or planning the installation of a water heater in a new home, choosing ENERGY STAR qualified products can contribute to a cleaner environment and help save money.
